

FOREDRAG:

“The Bach Flower Remedies and psycho-neuro-immuno-endocrinology - Modern medicine supports Dr. Bach’s legacy”

Foredrag:

Tid: Torsdag 10. Februar, kl. 18 – 20:00

Sted: Unity, Møllergt. 23, Oslo

Inngang: kr 100,-

Jose Figueroa will be talking about the implications of the recent discoveries within the field psycho-neuro-immuno-endocrinology, modern medicines latest field of research. Jose Figueroa will also be reviewing several clinical cases he has worked on personally where individuals effected by different serious conditions have benefited deeply from Bach Flower therapy.

The lecture will take a closer look at the relationship between the psyche and the biological systems linked to it, such as the neurological system, the immune system and the endocrine system. It will explain how Dr. Bach, more than 80 years ago, discovered this relationship and figured out a manner to heal imbalances in these areas.

As a Bach Flower specialist, José Figueroa García, is a firm supporter of the integration of natural therapies into the medical world. He has introduced and helped provide Reiki and Bach Flowers to Breast Cancer, Fibromyalgia and Rare Disease Associations as well as health institutions in Europe. He has trained on Psycho-neuro-immuno-endocrinology under the mentorship of Dr. Horacio Verini, one of the founding fathers of this medical field, at the forefront of modern medicine. José is dedicated to the training of health professionals and those seeking their own personal/transpersonal development.

Jose has worked with Bach flower remedies since the 90's and has been educated following the Bach center's education programme to the standard of Bach Flower Practitioner, this is the highest standard available at the Bach center, UK.